

New Retail Agent Appointed in London

Press Release

Nick Rowlands has joined Hartnell Taylor Cook LLP's retail team based in the London office. His role will cover all sectors of the retail agency market throughout the UK.

Nick, formerly of Jones Lang LaSalle and Churston Heard, will be involved in a number of Hartnell Taylor Cook LLP's existing shopping centre instructions, including The Hub, Milton Keynes; The Malls, Basingstoke; The Brewery, Cheltenham and Knightswick Centre, Canvey Island as well as high street disposals around the country. Nick is also involved with ATS Euromaster's disposal programme across the South East of England.

Andrew Bradley, Retail Partner at Hartnell Taylor Cook LLP's London office said: "We are delighted Nick has joined the retail team, his agency experience and knowledge of the retail market will complement and strengthen the service already provided by the team. Nick will be working closely with both myself and Rob Amey and be based in our London team."
